Economic Injury Disaster Loan

What is an Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL)?

If your business, agricultural cooperative, or private nonprofit cannot meet your financial obligations as a result of a disaster, SBA can help. We provide working capital loans, known as EIDL. This loan provides the money you need to keep your business running. Unlike a physical damage loan, this loan is meant to cover business expenses only.

What we offer

- Receive up to $2 million to cover costs like payroll, inventory, rent, and utilities
- Low fixed interest rate with repayment terms up to 30 years
- Zero interest accrued and zero payments for the first year
- Apply now! No need to wait for insurance to settle to start your application

What you need to apply

- ☐ Government ID and Business EIN
- ☐ Recent Federal Income Tax Return
- ☐ Contact Information- For you and all additional applicants, as applicable
- ☐ Financial Information- Income and monthly expenses
- ☐ Insurance Information- Details of existing coverage and claims, if available

Get Started

If you need additional assistance contact the Customer Service Center at 1.800.659.2955 (TTY:7-1-1) or visit sba.gov/funding-programs/disaster-assistance.

Deadlines: Physical Damages - October 26, 2026
Economic Damages - May 26, 2027

With 0% interest & $0 payment for the 1st year, get 6 months to decide to accept or decline and benefit from utilizing the 12 months grace period.

All SBA programs and services are extended to the public on a nondiscriminatory basis. (4/2026)

Dave Johnson
"The Outdoor Insider"

Some people prefer these cooler temperatures; others miss the heat of summer. Either way, everyone agrees fall is a wonderful time of year in this region — still warm enough to fish in a t-shirt, with the bite picking up for many fisheries.

If you're deciding where to fish this week, here are a few ideas. The hot ticket right now is whitefish on Banks Lake — anglers working the bottom in 100 feet of water in the Deavis Lake area are getting excellent numbers on dyed shrimp. Use small hooks, even egg hooks, since these fish have small mouths and are light biters, and bring some scent along; I've found they like garlic. Walleye fishing on Banks continues to be slow, but conditions are changing. Cooler water and the fading full moon should help. I'm hoping for a good topwater bite on smallmouth too. On Lake Chelan, kokanee are still being caught farther up the lake, with trolling from above the State Park to Mitchell Creek producing fish. For anglers near Spokane, Fish Lake recently dropped its size restrictions and limits. It will close to fishing on October 18th.

Mark's Marine has always supported local community organizations, and this year we're taking part in the Northwest Guardian Riders event on September 12th at Rathdrum City Park. It's a fundraiser for a group involved in many community efforts, running from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with food, drinks, and music, plus a free veterans raffle and a 50/50 raffle. I'll be there with the new Thunder Jet Luxor on display, showing youngsters a variety of tackle, talking about local fishing opportunities, and teaching a knot they can use for the rest of their angling lives. There will be other fishing-related displays and demonstrations in the park as well. I'm looking forward to meeting area youth and their families and to represent Mark's Marine at an event put on by the Northwest Guardian Riders. So, I hope to see on September 12th and plan to spend the day at Rathdrum Park. This week's photo is the poster for the event.

September is when I start checking dam counts for fall Chinook moving up the Columbia. Counts at Bonneville look good, tracking close to last year's pace, and while the forecast calls for fewer fish than last year, the numbers are still well above the ten-year average — as many as 22,000 fish passed Bonneville in a single day. McNary Dam is seeing good numbers too, and a large push of fall Chinook is now turning up the Snake, with reports of good catches around Lewiston-Clarkston. It's still early for the Hanford Reach and the Columbia above it — the fall run is only just starting to pass Priest Rapids Dam, though a friend and I have caught fish below Wanapum, off Crab Creek, as early as late August in past years. Anglers will be planning Hanford Reach trips soon, so if you want to fish that stretch, book a guide now — boats will fill up fast.

Cooler weather and sunny skies will inspire many anglers to get outdoors this fall. Trout anglers know that the fishing in this season can be best of the year, and they visit their favorite lakes for their last trout fishing trips of the year. I want to remind anglers that many lakes in the region will close to fishing at the end of September. By far the largest number of lakes that are closing are in Grant County. The popular early-season lakes include; Burke, Quincy, Caliche, Stratford, and a score of lakes in the Seep Lakes National Wildlife Refuge will close, along with Stratford and Vic Meyers. In Spokane County, Badger, Williams and Medical Lake West are only open until the end of the month. In Pend Oreille County, just one lake is closing, and that is Fan Lake. In Adams County, Hays Creek Ponds, Halfmoon Lake, and Sprague Lake will be closing at end of September as well. Just Coffee Pot Lake will close in Lincoln County. So, if one of your favorite lakes is on the list, you still have time to give them a try. I hope to get out on Sprague Lake. Fall fishing can be outstanding for big rainbow on Sprague. I have been told to wait until after the first frost.

As firefighters continue battling multiple large fires across the region, forest officials are urging the public to plan ahead for significant closures now in place across the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest. The forest has a closure order in place for the Three Queens, King, and Goat Fires, restricting access to a large portion of forest land in Kittitas County. The expanded closure order also closes trails from the Esmeralda Basin Trailhead and De Roux Campground, up the North Fork Teanaway Road — though De Roux Campground itself remains open. The closure also includes the Longs Pass and Ingalls Way Trails and part of the Ingalls Creek Trail. Officials also note active closures for the Ptarmigan and Sinlahekin Fires, affecting parts of the Pasayten Wilderness and trail systems in the Methow Valley and Tonasket areas. In Chelan County, a broad closure remains in effect for the Little Giant Fire, limiting access to roads, campgrounds, trailheads and sections of both the north and south shore of Lake Chelan, and portions of the Entiat, Chelan and Wenatchee River Ranger Districts. For more information, call the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest office at 509-664-9247 or visit <https://www.fs.usda.gov/r06/okanogan-wenatchee/alerts>.

WDFW plans to periodically dredge an outlet channel at Lake Lenore in Grant County, where vegetation, muck, and other material have created conditions that can trap and kill Lahontan cutthroat trout. The agency issued an environmental addendum Aug. 24 for the Lake Lenore Outlet Channel Restoration project, outlining plans to remove about 120 cubic yards of material from the channel roughly once every 10 years. The work would take place in late fall or winter, in an ephemeral channel between Lake Lenore and Soap Lake near a WDFW fish collection weir, about nine miles north of Soap Lake and 15 miles southwest of Coulee City. Areas outside the channel disturbed by the work would be replanted with hard stem bulrush seed.

VINTAGE MOTORCYCLES COMPETE AT 'RATTLERS RUN' SEPT. 12-13

The 20th annual trials and motocross event known as Rattlers Run will take place near Fairfield will be Sept. 12 and 13. File photo

FAIRFIELD, Wash. — Rattlers Run Vintage Motocross and Trials race featuring vintage motorcycles reaches a milestone this year with the Sept. 12-13 running of the 20th annual event.

The event features two similar but different disciplines including motocross and trials riding. In motocross speed is important on a track featuring hills, sharp turns and jumps.

In trials riding, speed is replaced by skill where riders test their balance, control and precision over extreme natural obstacle.

This event started in 2006 at the Anderson family farm in Fairfield. The Anderson's, Al and Brian, use a grass hillside on the farm to race vintage motocross and trials bikes on a piece of ground named after their family dog named "Rattler" — thus the name Rattlers Run.

American Historic Racing Motorcycle Association (AHRMA) will sanction this event that might resemble a rolling racing museum.

According to a news release, if you rode dirt bikes in the 1960s, 1970s or 1980s come on out and check it out. More than likely, there will be a model of your favorite old bike being raced and the racers are always happy to talk about their motorcycles. This event is a great family-oriented event.

The events start Saturday, Sept. 12 with vintage trials starting at 9 a.m. For those who are new to trails there is a trials school being held on Friday, Sept. 11 taught by Mike Allen at 4 p.m.

Starting at 1 p.m. Saturday, Post Vintage and Next Gen bikes, built 1975 and newer race. Sunday Sept. 13 the racing starts at 9 a.m. for 1974 or older vintage bikes.

Additional info is available at: www.facebook.com/rattlersrunracing. Rattlers run is located at 12111 E. Rattlers Run Rd, Fairfield, WA 99012. Or contact Al at 509-991-0577.

INDOOR KART RACE TO HONOR VINCE ZIMMER

The life of Vince Zimmer will be remembered, Sept. 27, at Faskart Indoor Speedway. Zimmer family photo

SPOKANE — Vince Zimmer lived for, among other things, racing — and maybe more specifically go-karts.

Zimmer passed away Aug. 6 and already, Zimmer's son, Andrew, has worked to put together a way to remember his father. That will take place with the inaugural "Vince Zimmer 2-Hour Team Enduro" set for Sunday, Sept. 27 at Faskart Indoor Speedway at 5 p.m.

The race will pay the winning team $1,000.

"I told you I wanted to make this the one race we all look forward to every year in remembrance of my dad," Andrew Zimmer wrote in a social media post. "If it wasn't for my dad and him racing at Fastkart, I would have never probably gotten into karting that completely changed my life."

There are simple guidelines to follow.

The race is limited to 10 teams of three and each driver must have two sessions at the wheel.

But there's an additional twist, Zimmer said, that where one hour is spent driving forward, and another hour in reverse.

Entry cost is $250 per team ($273 with tax) with information available by visiting Zimmer Motorsports on Facebook.

Vince Zimmer, 75, was a dedicated kart racer and supporter of the sport, particularly with the Spokane Kart Racing Association. He was a motocross and shifter kart racer, a sponsor, his Andrew Zimmer wrote.

"Known to most as Vince, he was a familiar and beloved presence in the Spokane community. Many knew him as the long-time founder and owner of Spokane Alpine Haus, where his love of boating and skiing was part of his life's work," his obituary said.

"As part of Vince's legacy, Spokane Alpine Haus Marina will continue to serve the community as it has for the past 50 years and will remain a lasting reflection of Vince, his love of the water, and honor his memory for generations to come," the obit also said.

Vince is survived by his wife, Melody Zimmer; children, Josh Zimmer, Kelly Pryor, Chad Journey-Zimmer, Brian Zimmer, and Andrew Zimmer as well as a number of grandchildren.

A celebration of life honoring Vince is being planned, with details to be shared at a later date.
